DETAILED ACTION

1. Claims 1-12 are pending in the present application for examination.

Claim Objections

2. Claim 1 is objected to because of the following informalities: the step that begins at line 10 of the recited claim should be indented. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Bargout et al (US Pat No. 5,867,570) cited in the previous Office Action, herein after referred as Bargout.

Regarding claim 1, referring to figure 1, Bargout teaches a method for producing an intelligent network service, in which method:

call control is divided into originating call control (e.g., call controlled by SSP "12" and SCP "10") and terminating call control (e.g., call controlled by SSP "18" and an associated SCP) (see Fig 1 and col. 5, ln 49-col. 6, ln 18);

event handling of a call is controlled by an originating control record (e.g., record stored in LNP database "22") and a terminating control record (e.g., record stored in LNP database associated with SSP "18") each control record having an operational connection to at least one intelligent network service control function (e.g., record stored in LNP database "22" that connected to SCP "10" and record stored in LNP database associated with SSP "18" connected to another SCP) for producing the intelligent network service (e.g., local number portability service); wherein a service or a portion thereof is determined in the originating control record to be a transferable service (see Fig 1 and col. 5, ln 49-col. 6, ln 18);

the transferable service is detected in the originating call control (see Fig 1 and col. 5, ln 49-col. 6, ln 18);

an indication, which includes an expression of the detected transferable service, is transmitted from the originating call control to the terminating call control (see Fig 1 and col. 5, ln 49-col. 6, ln 18); and an event related to the transferable service is set in the terminating call control as an intelligent network event that triggers the service (see Fig 1 and col. 5, ln 49-col. 6, ln 18).

Regarding claim 2, Bargout further teaches the method as claimed in claim 1, wherein the service is triggered on the terminating side in response to reception of said expression (see Fig 1 and col. 5, ln 49-col. 6, ln 18).

Regarding claim 3, Bargout further teaches the method as claimed in claim 1 wherein said expression is included in the indication that invokes the terminating call control ((see Fig 1 and col. 5, ln 49-col. 6, ln 18).

Regarding claim 4, Bargout further teaches the method as claimed in claim 3, wherein at least one other terminating control record is determined and the control record to be invoked is selected on the basis of the expression included in the indication (see Fig 1 and col. 5, ln 49-col. 6, ln 18).

Regarding claims 5-6 and 11-12, Bargout further teaches the service is number portability service, wherein a dedicated terminating control record is determined for the number portability service, and it is selected to be the control record that is invoked in response to the number portability service expression included in the indication (see Fig 1 and col. 5, ln 49-col. 6, ln 18).

Regarding claim 7, Bargout further teaches the method as claimed in any one of the preceding claims, wherein control records are modeled with state models (see Fig 1 and col. 5, ln 49-col. 6, ln 18).

As to claims 8-10, they are rejected for the same reasons set forth to rejecting claims 1-4 above, since claims 8-10 are merely a system for implementing the method defined in the method claims 1-4.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-12 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
